The School of the Arts, Media, Performance and Design
Markham Campus Appointment

The School of the Arts, Media, Performance and Design (AMPD), York University invites applications for a teaching stream (alternate stream) tenure-track position in Critical and Creative Entrepreneurship and/or New Media Games and Entertainment at the rank of Associate Lecturer, to commence July 1, 2019. One of North America's leading schools for the arts, AMPD offers undergraduate and graduate degree programs through seven departments: Cinema and Media Arts, Computational Arts, Dance, Design, Music, Theatre, and Visual Art and Art History. http://ampd.yorku.ca/

The successful candidate will be expected primarily to teach undergraduate courses and to provide leadership in enhancing teaching and learning through curricular and pedagogical innovation within a new program, to be launched at the York University Markham Centre Campus in 2021. The successful candidate will be an experienced leader at the post-secondary level, someone who seeks the challenges and rewards of building a new program in a new campus. During the first two years of the appointment, the successful candidate will teach a partial load in AMPD at the York University Keele Campus (teaching is projected to be in Cinema and Media Arts and Computational Arts) while actively developing the AMPD Markham program; the position will transfer wholly to Markham with the opening of the campus in 2021.

A PhD or PhD equivalent, such as an EdD or MA/MFA with a substantial record of professional experience in an environment emphasizing interdisciplinarity and digital innovation in the area of games and entertainment and/or an active entrepreneurial background is required.

The successful candidate will demonstrate excellence or clear potential for excellence in teaching university-level courses, a strong commitment to pedagogy and student success and the capacity to bring a theoretical and practical orientation to interdisciplinary teaching, project-based learning and program design. A record of pedagogical innovation in high priority areas such as experiential education, technology enhanced learning and community-based learning is sought as is experience with curriculum development and universal design approaches to teaching and assessment. The successful candidate is also expected to provide evidence of service contributions through administrative and committee work.

Salary will be commensurate with qualifications and experience. All York University positions are subject to budgetary approval.

York University is an Affirmative Action (AA) employer and strongly values diversity, including gender and sexual diversity, within its community. The AA program, which applies to Aboriginal people, visible minorities, people with disabilities, and women, can be found at www.yorku.ca/acadjobs or by calling the AA office at 416-736-5713. All qualified candidates are encouraged to apply; however, Canadian citizens, permanent residents and Indigenous peoples in Canada will be given priority.

The deadline for receipt of completed applications is November 30, 2018. Applicants should submit a signed letter of application outlining professional experience, an up-to-date curriculum vitae and a teaching dossier which supports excellence and innovation in teaching such as sample course outlines, teaching reviews, workshop and professional development programs attended or led, and conference papers and publications relating to pedagogy, and arrange for three signed confidential letters of recommendation to be sent to Professor Norma Sue Fisher-Stitt, Interim Dean, School of the Arts, Media, Performance and Design, York University, 4700 Keele Street, Toronto, Ontario M3J 1P3, email ampd-search@yorku.ca. Referees should be advised to address the candidate's qualifications and experience in relation to the position.

Applicants wishing to self-identify can do so by downloading, completing and submitting the forms found at: http://acadjobs.info.yorku.ca/. Please select the "Affirmative Action" tab under which forms pertaining to Citizenship and AA can be found.